FCAT Sample Test

Read, Think and Explain Question (Grade 8)

Read the story "The Makings of a Star" before answering Numbers 1 through 8 in Answer Book.

THE MAKINGS OF A STAR

by L. HALL

I'm going to be a star, I know it. I'm not sure quite how, but I have lots of time to figure that out. Maybe I'll be an actor, or a baseball player. Or I'll play basketball; I just need time to decide.

At school, my teacher shakes her head over my homework. "Garrett, this handwriting is terrible. How do you expect anyone to read it? What are you going to do when you have a job and your boss can't read your writing?"

Not a problem. "I'm going to be my own boss," I say, tossing a crumpled paper into the wastebasket. "I'll be able to hire secretaries to type everything for me." The class laughs; the teacher smiles and shakes her head again. The ball of paper sails in smooth. In my mind, the crowds go wild.

When I come home from school, my mother tells me to do my chores. I say, "Why should I? One day I'll be able to hire someone to do everything for me—not just type, but all my chores, too."

"Until then, it's your job to vacuum," says my mom. "And don't forget to take out the trash."

While the vacuum rolls over the vast brown carpet in the living room, I imagine the roars of the crowd, the unending cheers, the thunderous applause. Oh, it'll happen; I'm sure of it. I'll drive through the streets in a bright red convertible, leading a parade. A band will march behind me, while people crowd the street in order to get a look at me, a hometown boy who made it big. So big an armored car follows me wherever I go, full of cash for me to spend. I reach into a bag on the seat next to me and toss handfuls of cash into the crowds of people. The cheers are deafening. I stop the car, stand up right there in the driver's seat and take a bow.

"All right, Mr. Big," says my mother from the hallway. "Furniture is for sitting on, not standing on."

I scramble down from the armchair and finish vacuuming. I hear my mother's footsteps down the wooden floor of the hallway. When I'm sure she's gone, I climb up for one last bow.

After I put the vacuum cleaner away in the hall closet, I grab the trash bag from the kitchen and take it out to the cans by the garage. I wave at our neighbor, Mr. Rodriguez, who's outside working on his car. He straightens up, wiping the grease from his hands with a red rag.

"Let me give you a piece of advice," says Mr. Rodriguez. "I know you're at that age when you think getting a car is the best thing in the world. Believe me when I tell you it's not all that it's cracked up to be."

Mr. Rodriguez says this every time he works on his car. "Yeah, right," I say, dragging the cans out to the curb for pick-up the next morning. "I'm getting a car as soon as I get my license."

"Listen, cars are nothing but pain and heartache. Take it from me, I know. You have payments. You have insurance to pay. And then the work! Oil changes, tune-ups, radiator hoses—there's no end to it." He looks at his car with disgust. "A bus, now there's convenience: no payments, no insurance, no getting your hands all greasy."

Whoever heard of a star riding the bus? I'll be cruising in a car the day I turn sixteen. "Forget it," I tell Mr. Rodriguez, who has once again disappeared under the hood of his car.

Reading Answer Book

- 6 Garrett holds the dinner roll to his ear to
- A. act like a clown.
  - B. annoy his parents.
  - C. pretend it is a car telephone.
  - D. block out his mother's voice.

- 7 The author wants the reader to think that Garrett
- F. is lazy by nature.
  - G. is a poor student.
  - H. has a bright future.
  - I. has a vivid imagination.

- 8 How do the adults' comments to Garrett contribute to the development of the story? Use details and information from the story to support your answer.

The adults' comments in the story show that real life is the opposite of Garrett's dreams. For example, Garrett's dreams about a car are the opposite of Mr. Rodriguez's real-life experience with cars. Also, his mother is constantly interrupting him in his daydreams. While he is vacuuming, he thinks the sound of the vacuum is the cheering of the crowd as he passes by in his motorcade. His mother tells him to get off the furniture. When he is talking on a car telephone, his mother tells him to take the dinner roll down from his ear. Both of his parents laugh at his fantasies as he drops from being a star back to the reality of being an undiscovered talent.

It all started six months ago when attending the "Kubeg" concert + organizing section event is no pun intended of the alumni association, a co-sponsor of the event, it was scheduled. But she enjoyed her job and did what was required of her with great zeal and enthusiasm.

However, the extra hours affected her health; halfway through the show she passed out. We rushed her to the hospital, and several questions, x-ray blood tests later, were told it was just exhaustion.

Kate's been in very bad health since. Could you

We were referred to you by Xeno Chorn at the University Medical Center. This is regarding my friend, Kate Zach.

It all started around six months ago while attending the "Rubels" Jazz Concert. ~~Organizing~~ such an event is no picnic, and as President of the Alumni Association, a co-sponsor of the event, Kate was overwhelmed. But she enjoyed her job, and did what was required of her with great zeal and enthusiasm.

From 1996 to 2004, the encode rate for RCRs increased from 35 percent to 90 percent, reducing the need for manual matching at RECs from 24 billion pieces per year to 6 billion annually. As a result, USPS has been able to reduce the number of RECs in the national network from a high of 55 in 1998 to only 15 today.

We were referred to you by Mrs. Cohen at the University Medical Center. This is regarding my final EKG. As all related matter to me would be kept involving the University of Maryland, I am copying you so as not to be put out of the picture of the Allure Association, a co-sponsor of the event. EKG was completed last, the rest of the work was beyond of her with great skill and satisfaction.

However, the rates have been healthy, nothing through the show the present and I will submit her to the hospital, and I will be happy to submit the data later, when I will be well satisfied.

Best, in any good health, would you kindly take a look at the results and give me your opinion.

Thank You!

American First Ladies

When George Washington was elected the first President of the United States, there was much discussion about the role his wife, Martha, should play. "Lady Washington," the people began to call her. But Martha did not want to be treated like royalty or aristocracy. She decided that she would be an equal partner with her husband on social occasions. By doing this, she established a very important role for the President's wife—"hostess for the nation."

That role was expanded by James Madison's wife, Dolley Madison, the first woman to be called "First Lady." During the early 1800s, women had few rights. They could not vote or take part in politics. Married women were not even allowed to own property or make a will. A woman's education was usually limited to homemaking skills. But Dolley Madison came from a Quaker family whose community opened its schools to boys and girls. Dolley became an outgoing woman with strong opinions, whose influence on her husband was well known. She was also considered to be the center of society in Washington, D.C., hosting receptions at which politicians and diplomats gathered along with the general public. After her death in 1849, Dolley was honored by President Zachary Taylor, who called her "truly our First Lady for half a century."

Many other First Ladies had strong influences on their husbands, but a woman who really made the job her own was Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, the wife of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Just two days after her husband's inaugural in 1933, Eleanor held the first press conference ever given by a presidential wife. During FDR's presidency, Eleanor was always there with suggestions, proposals, and ideas. Sharecroppers,<sup>1</sup> garment workers, students, and other people whom she had encountered on her travels were brought to Washington to meet the President.

Travel she did—some 38,000 miles in her initial year as First Lady. FDR, weakened by polio, which he had contracted in 1921, was not able to travel easily. Eleanor became the "eyes and ears" of her husband, often making fact-finding trips for him. She saw and inspected everything from prisons to hospitals during those years of the Great Depression.<sup>2</sup> She also traveled across the country on lecture tours, wrote articles for magazines, and even wrote a daily newspaper column. During World War II, she became FDR's ambassador to the troops overseas. After her husband's death in 1945, Eleanor was appointed U.S. delegate to the United Nations, where she helped to create the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

To honor Eleanor Roosevelt's life of service, President Harry Truman called her "The First Lady of the World." At her funeral in 1962, Eleanor Roosevelt's remarkable career was summed up by former presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson: "She would rather light a candle than curse the darkness."

<sup>2</sup>the Great Depression: a period of tremendous economic hardship in the United States and other countries during the 1930s.
